

Jeffrey Deutsch
P.O. Box 1142
Severna Park, MD 21146
jdeutsch@rabidigers.com

EDUCATION:

PhD in Economics, George Mason University (Fairfax, VA). GPA: 3.392.

MA in Economics, George Mason University (Fairfax, VA). GPA: 3.300.

BA in Government, Cornell University (Ithaca, NY). GPA: 3.035.

TEACHING EXPERIENCE:

Program Director for Political Science

January 2005-Present

Free Curricula Center (Washington, DC). Create online Political Science program for non-profit organization developing university-level curricula for royalty-free distribution. Recruit and supervise faculty, edit and write online Political Science and Economics materials, allocate program offerings and set course requirements. Work with faculty from various countries. Chair Political Science Committee, serve on Board of Advisors and Social Sciences Committee.

Teacher

September 2006-Present

Anne Arundel County Public Schools (Annapolis, MD). Teach all core subjects to secondary and elementary students on a substitute basis. Accommodate individual students with special needs.

Professor of Business

October 2005-September 2006

Nova Southeastern University (Ft. Lauderdale, FL). Taught online MBA course in Economic Thinking on an adjunct basis. Material combined Intermediate Microeconomics, Industrial Organization, organizational theory and business strategy. Led asynchronous (message board) and synchronous (chat) discussions and graded class participation. Assigned and graded case studies and exams.

Instructor of Economics

June 2006-July 2006

South University (Savannah, GA). Taught online MBA course in Microeconomics and Decision Making. Material consisted of advanced applied microeconomics and risk analysis. Contacted students by email and phone. Alerted appropriate officials regarding at-risk students. Led discussions and assigned grades.

Professor of Economics

May 2004-July 2004

Keiser College (Ft. Lauderdale, FL). Taught online course in Principles of Macroeconomics. Led synchronous (online chat) as well as asynchronous (message board) discussions. Graded journal assignments, discussions and exams. Kept in touch with students, and personally contacted those having trouble with the material. Helped student with Incomplete into July. Assigned grades.

Instructor of Economics

October 1999-January 2000

International College at Beijing (Beijing, People's Republic of China). Gave lectures and assigned readings in Intermediate Microeconomics and History of Economic Thought. Helped students understand material, individually and in groups. Wrote and graded problem sets and exams. Assigned grades.

- Taught Chinese and Mongolian students, most of whom spoke English as a second language.

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE:

Founder

June 1997-Present

Rabid Tiger Project (Severna Park, MD). Research and write about political and economic problems worldwide. Maintain website and publish weblog and other material.

- Conducted background research on former Russian Premier Sergei Kiriyenko to support a book on world leaders.
- Conducted research to support a Belarusian student's application for political asylum.

Intelligence Reports Editor

September 2001-November 2001

Smith Brandon International (Washington, DC). Researched and wrote articles on international political and economic matters. Compiled news and background information from various sources.

Contributing Editor for Russian Politics

December 1997-May 1999

Suite101.com (Vancouver, BC, Canada). Maintained own webpage. Wrote bi-weekly articles. Led public discussions on Russian politics and other topics. Found, reviewed and posted links to Internet resources.

- Wrote special reports on the dismissal of then Russian Premier Victor Chernomyrdin's government in March 1998, the Russian financial meltdown of August 1998 and the Caspian Sea region.

ADDITIONAL BACKGROUND:

Research on international political, economic and military affairs, including in Nazi Germany, Soviet and modern Russia, Belarus, China, Japan, Israel, Iraq and the Caspian Sea region. Language skills in Russian, Spanish and French. Internet applications, Windows 95/98/NT/XP, MS Word, Excel, WebCT, eCollege, Moodle, WordPerfect, DOS and UNIX. Socrates Online Facilitator Training, for distance education faculty.

WORKS:

"The Problem of 'Rabid Tigers': Why Did Saddam Hussein Invade and Occupy Kuwait?". PhD dissertation, defended August 21, 1998. Application of Industrial Organization and Public Choice theory to political networks. Analysis of domestic economic and political changes to explain unexpectedly aggressive foreign policies, such as Hussein's refusal to withdraw from Kuwait despite the odds.

"The Israeli Defense Force: An Exemplar of the Exploitation of Local and Tacit Knowledge". A talk and presentation paper delivered before the Center for the Study of Market Processes, George Mason University, April 18, 1995. Discussion of Israeli military organization and operations, with applications to other militaries, from an economic standpoint.

"The Unplanned Planned Economy," Cornell Political Forum, Fall 1989. Examination of how Nazi central economic planning led Germany to political strife, dissension and great inefficiency.

"The Legacy of Joseph Stalin," Cornell Political Forum, Spring 1989. Analysis of how Stalin, through totalitarian terror, created a truly chaotic society in the Soviet Union.

ACTIVITIES:

Cornell Alumni Admissions Ambassador Network, September 2000-Present. Meet with Cornell University applicants, parents and others on behalf of Cornell. Help persuade applicants and others to make Cornell their first choice, and send reports to be used by Admissions Committee.

Golden Key International Honour Society, May 1999-Present.

Omicron Delta Epsilon, international honor society in Economics, May 1993-Present.

Talk Show Host, WVAU (American University [Washington, DC] student radio station), November 1996-May 1997. Discussed current world, national and local issues.

Senior Staff Writer, Expulsion (George Mason University student newspaper), September 1996-May 1997; Staff Writer, September 1995-September 1996. Discussed current world, national and local issues.

George Mason University Peer Empowerment Program, September 1995-May 1996. Worked with behaviorally at-risk children at J. O. Wilson Elementary School in Washington, DC.

Information Literacy Initiative, George Mason University, February 1995-May 1995. Semester tutoring project. Helped students learn to work with computers and the Internet.