

Brownie Troop 2896 Notes

May 8, 2006

Thanks again to everyone for their help with encampment. I know all the girls had a great time, and we are discussing what they enjoyed the most at camp today so we can plan for next year. In addition, we will continue to work on the Prince William Forest Park Junior Ranger booklets during downtime over the next few meetings so everyone can get their certificates and Junior Ranger badges.

Today we had a special visit from GoGo the Clown to do face painting with the girls. This completes their last requirement for the “Art to Wear” try-it.

If you forgot to bring QSP packets today, please contact Raj (Omisha’s mom) so she can get those assembled and turned in.

PerryAnne (Callista’s mom) is also collecting $10/Girl Scout for early registration for next year. This registration fee goes straight to the council; the troop doesn’t keep any of it. Dues for next year, which go straight to the troop, won’t be set until early next year, when we do some planning and figure out what we will be doing, as well as how much money we have to carryforward from this year. Dues will be less than they were this year.

Next meeting: May 22 (check the website for meeting dates and copies of troop notes—those two sections are always up to date!)
