SAM NICOLOSI PROCLAIMS 2005 AS THE "YEAR OF THE ACES"

February 6, 2005

Sam Nicolosi proclaims this the "Year of the Aces!"

How cool, Sam states this only hours before his First career ace!

During the practice holes, prior to the Findlay Snow Bowl, Sam and other MOODGolfers meandered thru Riverbend Disc Golf Trail. Only 3 holes into the warm up, Sam steps up to the tee, and with his trusty ROC sails a picture perfect drive right into the awaiting target. (single chain DISCcatchers®)

After a split second of silence, emotions erupted, chain gang money was flyin', and cow bells commenced to ringin'. The laughter and excitement lasted for a while and erupted again as Dave Stevens hit chains on the next hole. Brad Spriggs runs toward the target to verify the fact. Unfortunately, Dave did not get the big bucks, but was able to collect a little mooney.

The entire group thought they would have to visit the ATM as it is customary for MOODGolfers to pay five dollars for an ace and one dollar for hitting any metal.

FROM THE DESK OF MOODGOLF

- Sam Nicolosi has taken the responsibility of "Chain Gang" chains tally and distribution. If you hit chains or an Ace and have a witness, contact Sam at samsunami@gmail.com
- MOODGolf will be helping the Columbus Flyers with a sponsorship of the tee pad for hole #13 at Griggs Reservoir DGC.
- So far the vote for Doubles is Sunday! Keep voting!

MOODGOLFERS DOMINATE IN FINDLAY

The day starts with a certain rendezvous with Ian Cooper, Sam Nicolosi, Brad Spriggs and Ken (Cow hitter) Rollins. Initially, Brad expresses some concern about his partners last minute inability to participate. After a bit of persuasion and a little liquid relaxation, the trip to Riverbend was underway. As the four MOODGolfers trek to Findlay, there is a lot of conversation regarding a partner for Brad. Brad has reservations about finding a partner for the doubles tournament. He is assured by the others that all will be ok. The MOOmobile arrives with time to spare for a few warm up holes. During the warm up Sam Aces hole #3. (See above)

During registration, Brad gains a bit of luck as he is able to land Andrew Schrum as a partner. Sam and Ian team up as Dave Stevens and Ken unite in hopes to lead the group. Ironically the foursome, Sam, Ian, Dave, and Ken start on hole #3! No aces this time. Both teams start out strong with a string of birdies and pars. Throughout the round the teams were tied or within one stroke. The final scores on the lead card were -9 Dave & Ken and Sam & Ian at -8. Additionally, Brad & Andrew tied with Sam & Ian for second. The day turned out to be successful and $409 was collected for the Red Cross and the disc golf fund!
