VOLUME 2, SPECIAL ISSUE1 JANUARY 2005

A BATTLE FOR #1 AND #2 BAG TAGS

Tension builds as the day nears. Sam Nicolosi accepts a challenge from Dave Stevens for the upcoming Huntington Ice Bowl. Soon after the challenge is set, new member Don Kleppe tightens the strain with the idea of a group challenge. Knowing this may erupt into a all out war of tags flying around the distant club members, Ken Rollins steps in and lightens the load with an ultimatum to accept a group challenge as long as Nicolosi and Stevens could have and exclusive challenge.

January 29, 2005...

The day has arrived. The seven members, (Sam, Dave, Dustin, Allen, Mike, Brad, & Ken) packed like sardines, travel to Huntington, WV for the 8th annual Ice Bowl at Rotary Park. The transition from winter to spring like weather proves beneficial for Dave as he shot an excellent first round with a 6 under par! Sam, not having the advantage of previously playing the course, shot a 1 under par. Congratulations to Dave on his victory!

As for the rest of the herd. Visit the web site to see the results. ☺

FROM THE DESK OF MOODGOLF

- The HDGC Ice Bowl was a wonderful experience. I would like to personally thank Allen, Dave, Sam, Dustin, Brad & Mike for joining me for the "coolest" Ice Bowl that I've attended to date! Additionally, the smack was cool and hilarious.
- Special note...Ken Rollins is getting a special implant to help limit his phone calls by way of a small electrical shock so that he will not exceed 1.3 minutes per call.

SIAS AND HDGC HELPS MOODGOLF

Johnny Sias, long time friend of Ken Rollins, organized a Mini Golf Tournament immediately following the Huntington Disc Golf Club's Ice Bowl. The concept of the mini nine hole round was to help MOODGolf raise funds to complete the project started by Allen Koehler. Much to everyone's surprise the event was a huge success as the money raised exceeded $140 to help secure hole #13 at Sawyer Ludwig DGC. As many as 28 disc golfers competed for custom mini trophies donated by Sias. The trophies were 8 small West Virginia shapes cut out of maple and 4

Tri-State Overall trophies made of cherry wood.

The grand prize, Mini Skill Shot™, also donated by Sias was a popular item. Sias was able to convince the skeptical golfers that a mini round would be fun. This became evident as golfers and spectators could hear the laughs and scoffs throughout the unique course design. MOODGolf is GREATFUL for Sias' thoughtfulness, generosity, support, and friendship. We won't soon forget the day in WVA!

ROLLINS ACES HOLE #3

During the doubles round at the Huntington Ice Bowl, Ken Rollins, aced hole #3 at Rotary Park. In all the excitement Rollins' head swelled so much that his ski cap popped right off his already large melon. All concerned are hopeful that he will make a speedy recovery and be back on the course soon. Some are hoping this condition will shrink the size of his mouth as it is already too large.
