The alien mechanical soldier that looks like a cricket is from the planet Xy98757. His name is "UNIT XY8KP97462". The black halo around his body is his exoskeleton acting as a shield generator that is shed once a millennium. The red wings are mini blasters and his mouth chomps everything in site. The orange body section is used as gills to breath in water, outer space, and in hot lava. (Paraphrased description given by Noah)
