respect for him, his knowledge and his ability to teach.” Kostolansky continued, “We’re happy to have him as the CSA Lax Commissioner, and we’re excited about this opportunity to develop this program. There’s an outpouring of enthusiasm & community demand in Clarksburg for lacrosse, and under David’s leadership CSA will have a quality lax program established for the greater Clarksburg community for years to come!”

David played 3 years of Division I Lacrosse at Penn State, where he started for 2 years. He led the defense in his junior year, and helped the Penn State to achieve one of its best records in the schools program. Upon completion of college, he continued to play lacrosse at Pittsburgh Lacrosse Club.

“The experience I have gained by being a player and coach for over 25 years, along with input from our CSA Lacrosse Director, Ed Kostolansky, will be very valuable as we grow the game of lacrosse here in Clarksburg,” Moylan said. “More importantly, we look forward to contributing in the development of our children into student-athletes to become positive role models both on and off the field.” Moylan continued, “I want to build upon our collective experience and best practices to develop one of the premier programs in the state.”

Kevin Hutto, CSA Executive Director commented, "David has lofty aspirations for the lacrosse program at CSA and we are fortunate to have someone with his vision and passion for the future of Lacrosse here in Clarksburg."
