CLARKSBURG, MD, AUGUST 19, 2009: Clarksburg Sports Association, Inc., (CSA) a youth sports organization serving the greater Clarksburg area announced today a strategic alliance with PB Dye Golf Club offering new programs beginning in the fall of 2009.

PB Dye General Manager Billy Cullum commented on the development, "As an organization that leads, we are confident that CSA will foster and promote the exposure of the game of golf and its inherent values of integrity, sportsmanship and self-discipline to young people who might not otherwise have the opportunity to experience the game. Jaime Gonzalez, Head Golf Pro at PB Dye commented, "Our team here at PB Dye was energized by the passion and leadership at CSA to help area youth develop their interest and skills for the game of golf. We look forward to serving families in our growing community and the CSA partnership will help us to maximize our reach. We were very impressed with vision for the CSA golf program which we believe is an ideal fit for our club".

Jim Estes, CSA Golf Director and PGA Director of Instruction at Olney Golf Park commented, "This is a great opportunity for up-county families to experience a comprehensive program that will help our area youth develop a lifetime sport. I am confident that families will benefit immensely from our all-inclusive program, the expert instruction of our coaches and the golf pros at PB Dye."

"CSA will be supporting multiple junior golf activities for boys and girls, ages 18 and under" commented CSA Golf Commissioner Meredith Couey. "We will offer the CSA Junior Golf Club beginning in October and there will be additional programs such as clinics and camps throughout the year. The partnership with PB Dye provides the edge that will help make our young golfers more competitive as we prepare these future competitors for their eventual high school golf experience and beyond." Couey continued, "The word is out and we are already receiving numerous inquiries about the program. We are confident this partnership will translate into a positive experience for our CSA families".

The CSA Junior Golf Club program will begin this fall 2009.
